PHOTOBIOMODULATION

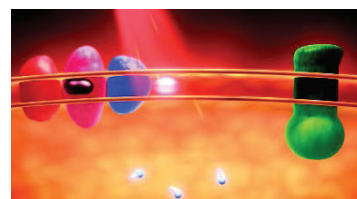

Photobiomodulation (PBM) is a light therapy that uses red and near infra-red light to induce photochemical reactions in the body on the molecular and cellular levels. Summus Medical Laser protocols combine wavelengths, pulsing and power to achieve unparalleled therapeutic effects including modulation of inflammation, reduction in pain, accelerated tissue healing and increased circulation.

1 Light interacts with tissues at a cellular level

2 Improves the transport of nutrients creating the ideal healing environment

3 Alleviates pain and restores function

BIOLOGICAL EFFECTS OF LASER THERAPY

- Accelerated Tissue Repair and Cell Growth

Since bringing Summus Medical Laser, I make an average of $85K per year. I charge $35 per treatment and offer packages based on the patient's condition, such as $250 for six osteoarthritis treatments or $70 for three general laser treatments. I found there were less post-op calls after laser therapy was implemented. Another appeal is that technicians can do it, allowing for lower overhead and giving me more time to see other patients."
